Charges

Costs will vary depending on the vendor/source. The requested document may be obtained from a library or a commercial document supplier whichever one is the most efficient.

The rate for one article from a NSW public library is $3.80. From other libraries such as universities, the charge (for up to 30 pages) is $17.00. The cost to obtain articles through commercial suppliers varies. Article prices start at $1.10 and usually don't exceed $20.

You will be advised of the cost when a suitable vendor is found and asked if you would still like to go ahead with the request at that particular price. Library staff will always endeavor to obtain the item using the most efficient and cost-effective means available.

Copyright

All requests for photocopied material must comply with The Australian Copyright Act. The Australian Copyright Act allows one chapter or ten per cent of a book to be copied. One article from any issue of a journal can be copied. More than one article in any issue of a journal can be copied only if the articles are on exactly the same topic.
